Bain Capital Special Situations, Griffin and their respective affiliates act for the funds and investment vehicles which they manage or advise (the "Vehicles") and will not be acting for anyone else. In particular, neither Bain Capital Special Situations nor Griffin will advise potential investors on subscriptions in any Vehicle or co-investments and will not arrange transactions on behalf of anyone other than the Vehicles or provide advice on the merits of such transactions. No representative of Bain Capital Special Situations or Griffin has the authority to represent otherwise. Neither Bain Capital Special Situations nor Griffin is responsible for providing you with the protections afforded to its clients and you are strongly advised to take your own legal, investment and tax advice from suitably qualified advisers. This is a marketing communication. Please refer to the private placement memorandum of a Vehicle before making any final investment decisions.

Bain Capital products are distributed by Bain Capital Markets, LLC ("BCM"). BCM provides services to Bain Capital's affiliates, not to investors in its funds or other products. As such, when BCM presents an investment to a prospective investor, BCM does not collect the information necessary to determine whether such investment is in the best interests of, or is suitable for, the investor. Investors should exercise their own judgment and/or consult with their professional advisors to determine whether it is advisable for the investor to invest in any Bain Capital fund or other product. Please note that BCM may not provide the kinds of financial services that you might expect from another financial firm. For example, BCM does not oversee any brokerage or similar accounts. BCM has not and will not make any recommendations regarding, and will not monitor, any investment made by any investor. For financial advice relating to an investment in any Bain Capital strategy or product, investors should contact their professional advisors.

Any offer to purchase or buy securities or other investment product will only be made pursuant to an offering document and the subscription documents, which will be furnished to qualified investors on a confidential basis at their request for their consideration in connection with any such offering. Any investment decision in connection with a Fund should be based on the information contained in the private placement memorandum. This information is not, and under no circumstances is to be construed as, a prospectus, a public offering, or an offering memorandum as defined under applicable securities legislation. The information contained herein does not set forth all of the terms, conditions and risks of the Funds, including risks associated with Regulation D privately-offered investment products.

An investment in the Vehicles is speculative and involves a high degree of risk, which may not be suitable for all investors. The Vehicles will engage in leveraging and other speculative investment practices that may increase the risk of investment loss. An investment in a Vehicle is expected to be highly illiquid, as there is a very limited market for Vehicle interests and there are restrictions on the transfer of Vehicle interests. A Fund is not required to provide periodic pricing or valuation information to investors. Investing in a Vehicle will involve a complex tax structure, and there may be delays in distributing important tax information. Private funds are not subject to the same regulatory requirements as mutual funds, and private fund advisers and sponsors charge higher fees, which will impact your returns. Returns may increase or decrease as a result of currency fluctuations. The foregoing list of risk factors does not purport to be a complete enumeration of the risks involved in an investment in the Vehicles. Prospective investors should reference the offering documents and consult with their own legal, tax and financial advisors before deciding to invest in the Vehicles. Refer to a particular Vehicle's offering documents for additional details, risk factors and other important considerations, including registration requirements for certain jurisdictions.

This material contains proprietary and confidential information and analysis and may not be distributed or duplicated without the express written consent of Bain Capital Special Situations and Griffin or their respective affiliates. Distribution to, or use by, any person or entity in any jurisdiction or country where such distribution or use would be contrary to law or regulation, or which would subject Bain Capital Special Situations, Griffin or their respective affiliates to any registration requirement within such jurisdiction or country, is prohibited. By accepting this presentation, the recipient agrees to keep it confidential and return it promptly upon request.

Executive Summary

Market Updates

Over the last quarter, the global macroeconomic and aviation landscape continued to evolve, with year-end publication of 2026 industry outlooks informing the key takeaways. Below we have summarized where we believe the aviation industry stands as of Q4 2025.

- Demand & Traffic Growth: Global air traffic growth remains structurally strong, with passenger origin-destination traffic projected to double by 2045, driven primarily by Asia-Pacific demand, where rising incomes and air travel penetration are expected to account for nearly half of global traffic over the long term
- Fleet Growth & Supply Constraints: The global passenger fleet is projected to grow from approximately 30,800 aircraft today to ~51,900 by 2045, requiring nearly 48,000 new aircraft deliveries, over half of which are replacement-driven.[1] Near-term OEM delivery bottlenecks—particularly related to engines and MRO capacity—are expected to persist through the latter part of the decade, supporting elevated lease rates and asset utilization for in-service aircraft.
- Financing & Leasing Environment: While funding costs remain elevated relative to recent historical levels, airlines' continued demand for leased aircraft, together with durable lease structures and disciplined lessor supply, supports attractive risk-adjusted returns for aircraft owners.

Aircraft Fund & Business Update

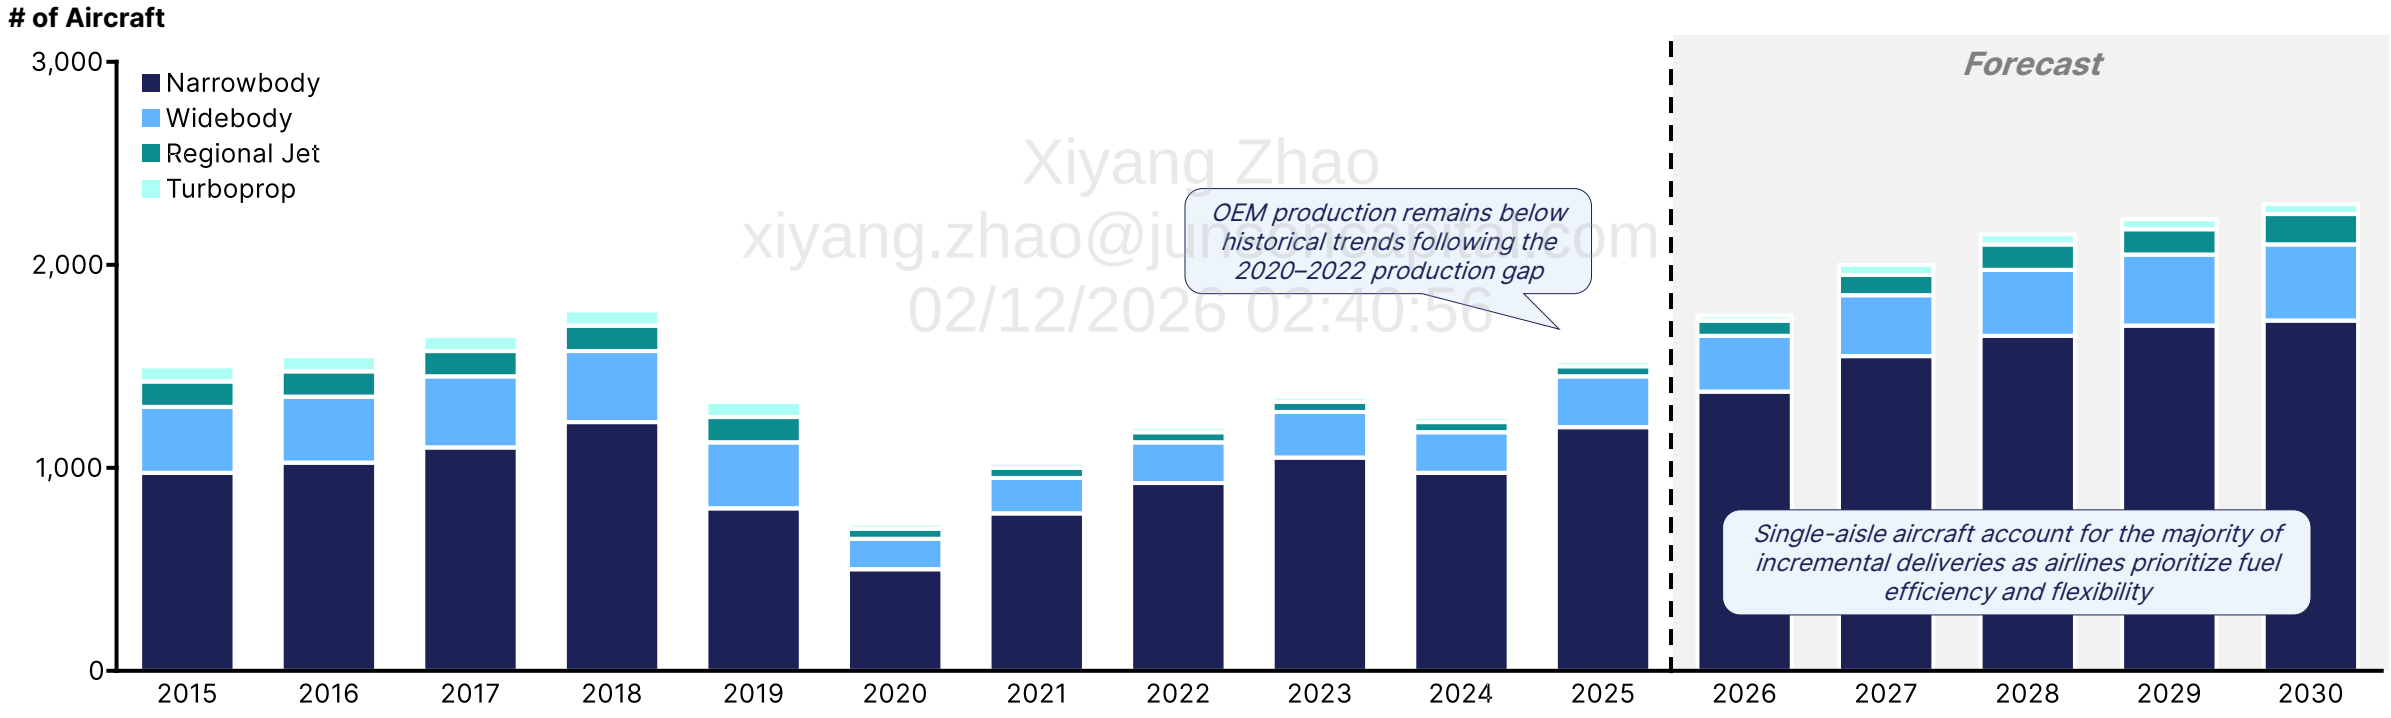

- As of December 2025, the Fund has completed multiple successful closings, ending the year with over $300M of capital commitments and we expect to complete additional closes during the Q1 2026. While the fundraising period is set to expire at the end of Q1 2026, we are considering an extension to allow prospective investors more time to complete their due diligence.
- During Q4 2025, the Griffin platform successfully completed its inaugural master trust securitization, representing the largest-ever aircraft ABS transaction. The $1.2Bn issuance was backed by a diversified portfolio of Griffin's existing young, new-technology commercial aircraft on long-term leases to high-quality airline counterparties.
  - In addition to a mix of existing Vintage 1 and Vintage 2 aircraft, the issuance was also backed by a diversified pool of 9x aircraft on lease to 8x lessees that were acquired in tandem with the securitization during the quarter. These aircraft were integral to the securitization, supporting portfolio diversification efforts and helping facilitate our success in realizing the attractive terms achieved. Importantly, the Aircraft Fund holds an ~ 19% equity interest in this 9x aircraft pool, directly participating in the economics of the securitized assets and benefiting from the improved liquidity and financing efficiency associated with the ABS structure.
  - Over the course of the quarter, we worked to begin the closing process for our new aircraft acquisitions and begin transferring existing assets from the Griffin Corporate Entity to the ABS structure. As we enter 2026, we are continuing to finalize the closing and integration of the remaining new aircraft associated with this portfolio, further reinforcing the Aircraft Fund's exposure to scaled, institutional-quality financing and liquidity generation across the Griffin platform.
- We are actively evaluating several potential investments for the Fund and are excited for the year ahead as we continue to grow the portfolio with discipline, focusing on high-quality assets and structures to aim to generate attractive risk-adjusted returns for our investors.

Elevated retirements and constrained OEM production create recurring demand for modern, in-service aircraft.
Narrowbodies (70% of the Aircraft Fund's target asset) account for the majority of both deliveries and retirements as airlines modernize fleets.

Data as of December 31, 2025. Reflects Bain Capital Special Situation's view at the time of this presentation and is subject to change. Data per IBA 2026-2045 Market Outlook.

Portfolio composition further diversified QoQ through the acquisition of 9x[1] assets added in connection with our inaugural securitization.

Portfolio Scorecard

The Fund's pro forma composition will evolve as we scale the portfolio and look to create a well-balanced platform across a mix of assets.

	Pro Forma	Scaled Target
Asset Type Split	●	70% NBs / 30% WBs At 50%+ Target Size[3]
Age at Acquisition[4]	●	~90%+ Newbuild
Purchase Price Discount	●	5% - 10%
LRF (Monthly)	○	65bps - 75bps
Lessee Counterparty	●	~75% Tier 1 or Tier 2
Maintenance Reserves	Some [5]	20% -30%
Security Deposit	Some [6]	> 1x Months Rent
Return Conditions	●	~90%+ Full-Life
Gross Target Returns[2]	●	15% - 20%
Net Target Returns	●	Blended, 15%
Run-Rate Equity Yield	●	7% - 10%

● Meeting Target ○ Near Target

Represents Bain Capital Special Situations' views as of the date of this presentation and is subject to change. Pending investments are subject to satisfaction of closing conditions, which cannot be guaranteed. Note: Our target fund portfolio composition is based off the Vintage 1 & Vintage 2 Griffin platform. Data as of December 31, 2025. Targeted returns may not be achieved. Actual results may vary (1) Inclusive of A320ceo, 737NG, 737-900ER, and 787 assets as well. These assets are on lease to the following airlines: American, Ethiopian, GOL, Jetstar Japan, Lion Air, Thai Lion Air, Virgin Australia and Vueling. The Aircraft Fund has a ~19% equity allocation to this pool of 9x aircraft. (2) Pro forma gross returns reflect base case expected gross returns for the Fund, subject to the undiscounted Fund fees and expenses reflected in the offering documents. While forecasted returns do not reflect the impact of a subscription line, the Fund may use a subscription line to manage cash efficiently and smooth the deployment schedule. Subscription lines are typically accretive to returns. (3) Asset type splits are categorized as meeting target while building early scale. Once the portfolio reaches 50%+ of the target size, asset type scorecard will be refreshed. (4) Age at acquisition target based on appraised value. (5) Engines maintenance structure is pledged by Rolls Royce. 4x of the aircraft in the recently acquired pool pay cash MRs. (6) 3x of the aircraft in the recently acquired pool have cash SDs.

Our existing portfolio is comprised of 15x aircraft[1] and 5x engines[3], built across three high-impact transactions.

	Transaction	# / Type of Units	New / Existing	% of Current Portfolio Value	Commentary
1.	United Airlines	6x 737-9	New	76%	• United Airlines is the largest airline in the world by fleet, operating as the only U.S. legacy carrier that flies to ~75 destinations globally[2] • Since a 3Q'24 RFP, we were engaged with United to acquire 10x 737-9s delivering throughout '25; our initial transaction includes 6x aircraft, however we are working with United to potentially acquire additional assets – These aircraft will be strong candidates for the JOLCO market, which we intend to pursue for all 6x of the assets • United has historically operated their fleet for the entire useful life, and is expected to continue, which we believe provides strong asset security • We view this transaction as formative to establishing a relationship with United, who historically has engaged with a limited number of lessor counterparties • United's Tier 1 credit profile, tenure of fleet operations and track record in the JOLCO market have positioned this deal to be attractive for the Fund
2.	Rolls-Royce	5x Engines[3]	New	7%	• Rolls-Royce is a leading manufacturer of commercial aircraft jet engines; Rolls operates a joint venture with GATX Corporation, Rolls-Royce & Partners Finance, which leases aircraft spare engines to commercial aircraft operators • This transaction is a continuation of our strong relationship with Rolls-Royce that the Bain Capital Griffin platform has formed over the last several years • These engines will be financed with the existing, highly efficient Master Trust structure implemented for Vintage 2 • Participation in this pool of engines provides an attractive annual cashflow yield for the Fund

See "Endnotes" for important definitions, disclosures and information regarding returns, indices and performance calculation methodologies. It should not be assumed that any of the securities, transactions, or holdings discussed were or will be profitable, or that the recommendations or decisions made in the future will be profitable or will equal the performance of the securities, transactions, or holdings discussed herein. (1) The Aircraft Fund has a ~19% equity allocation to the pool of 9x aircraft acquired this quarter (A320ceo, 737NG, 737-900ER, and 787 assets). (2) Per United Airlines public disclosures as of September 30, 2025. (3) The Aircraft Fund has a ~23% equity allocation to a pool of 5x engines.

Our existing portfolio is comprised of 15x aircraft[1] and 5x engines[2], built across three high-impact transactions.

	Transaction	# / Type of Units	New / Existing	% of Current Portfolio Value	Commentary
3.	Portfolio Acquisition #1	9x Total Aircraft 2x A320ceo 5x 737-800 1x 737-900ER 1x 787-8	All 8x credits included in transaction pool are new to the Aircraft Fund	17%	The pool of nine assets was acquired as a single portfolio and contributed into the platform's inaugural ABS, increasing asset and lessee diversification and supporting attractive execution. The efficient financing structure is highly accretive to the Fund with minimal equity exposure and reflects the Aircraft Fund's opportunistic allocation, which complements the core strategy and supports attractive risk-adjusted returns. • American Airlines: American Airlines is one of the largest global carriers by fleet and network scale, supported by strong liquidity and Tier 1 credit. We view the airline's scale, operating history, and long-term fleet strategy favorably. • Ethiopian Airlines: Ethiopian Airlines is the flag carrier of Ethiopia and the largest airline in Africa, benefiting from consistent government support and a strong long-term operating track record. Its modern fleet and history of operating aircraft through full useful lives support long-term asset stability. • GOL: GOL is one of the leading low-cost carriers in Latin America with a strong domestic franchise in Brazil and a scaled, single-fleet operating model. Following its recent Chapter 11 exit, the airline has improved its liquidity and balance sheet, positioning it for more stable operations and fleet utilization going forward. • Jetstar Japan: Joint venture between Japan Airlines and Qantas that has returned to improving profitability following the post-COVID recovery. The airline's strategic role within the Japan Airlines and Qantas networks and parent support underpin its credit and asset quality. • Lion Air: Lion Air is a leading Southeast Asian low-cost carrier with significant scale and a large installed fleet. Ongoing fleet modernization and improving fundamentals support continued utilization of the assets. • Thai Lion Air: Thai Lion Air operates as an ultra-low-cost carrier focused on the domestic Thai market with traffic trends continuing to recover. The airline's operating model and market positioning support consistent aircraft utilization. • Virgin Australia: Virgin Australia is a leading Australian carrier with a strong domestic network and a well-established brand in core business and leisure routes. Following its recapitalization, the airline has demonstrated improving fundamentals and operating stability, which we believe supports consistent fleet utilization and asset performance. • Vueling: European low-cost carrier owned by IAG, benefiting from investment-grade parent support and strong liquidity. Its narrowbody fleet is highly liquid and well positioned for redeployment across European markets.

APPENDIX - ENDNOTES

PERFORMANCE DISCLOSURES

1. The performance information contained in this presentation is intended solely to provide investors with information about funds and accounts advised by Bain Capital Credit. There can be no assurance that the results achieved by Bain Capital Credit will be achieved by other investments, including other investments made by Bain Capital Credit. Past performance should not be relied upon as an indication of future results. Actual results may vary.
2. The information in this presentation has been prepared solely to assist interested parties in making their own evaluation of the strategy and does not purport to be complete or to contain all of the information that a prospective client or investor may consider material, or desirable, in making a decision to invest. The information contained herein is not a substitute for the recipient's independent evaluation and analysis.
3. Investors should not assume that the performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable or similar to past performance levels. An investment or investment strategy is impacted by numerous factors, including market and economic conditions, which are out of the control of Bain Capital Credit, which may result in loss to investors. Investment in a fund may fluctuate and the value may decline as well as appreciate and an investment should only be made by those persons who could sustain a total loss on their investment.
4. Some of the performance information contained in this document does NOT reflect the performance of any specific Bain Capital Credit fund, unless specifically noted. Performance is being shown to demonstrate Bain Capital Credit's relevant experience as an investment manager of the relevant assets. The returns of any Bain Capital Credit fund may be materially different from the returns shown. As such, investors should not construe the information contained in this presentation as an indication of potential performance of any Bain Capital Credit fund and should not rely on past performance when making an investment decision in any Bain Capital Credit fund. Full Bain Capital Credit fund returns are available upon request.
5. Investments shown are not a complete list of Bain Capital Credit fund investments. A full list of Bain Capital Credit fund investments and performance is available upon request.

TARGETED RETURNS

1. Significant assumptions have been made in calculating all of the forward-looking information, including target IRRs and target MoMs, contained in this presentation. Target IRRs and target MoMs are presented for informational purposes only and are neither a guarantee nor a prediction of future performance. The targeted returns are based on (a) anticipated underlying asset performance, (b) the use of moderate leverage, (c) operational strategies of Bain Capital, and (d) the sector and geographic focus of acquisition activity. These assumptions are subject to numerous uncertainties, not only with respect to Bain Capital, but also uncertainties and changes (including changes in economic, operational, political or other circumstance) and other risks, including, but not limited to, broad trends in business and finance, legislation and regulation, commodity prices, and market conditions, all of which are beyond the portfolio company's control and any of which may cause the relevant actual results to differ materially from such assumptions. While Bain Capital believes that the assumptions are reasonable, due to various risks and uncertainties, actual events or results or the actual performance may differ materially from those reflected or contemplated.

Xiyang Zhao
xiyang.zhao@junsoncapital.com

DISCUSSION OF RETURNS

1. Gross returns shown do not reflect origination fees, advisory fees, performance allocations, taxes, transaction costs incurred in connection with the disposition of investments and other expenses to be borne by investors, which will have the effect of reducing returns and in the aggregate, are expected to be substantial. The compounding effect of fees on a portfolio reduce performance returns of an account. For example, an account paying no fees that begins with $1,000,000 and experiencing a consistent 8% return for 10 years would grow to approximately $2,169,000. An account charged a 1% fee and experiencing the same rate of return would grow to $1,998,000. Investment advisory fees including management fee, carried interest and other expenses are described in Part 2 of Bain Capital Credit's Form ADV, available upon request. Net returns may not be provided because the fees and expenses associated with individual investments are applied in aggregate at the vehicle level of the various Bain Capital Credit funds, which made these investments.
2. Net returns represent the returns to non-affiliated investors after deduction of management fees, performance reallocation and partnership expenses. These performance results may not have been compiled, reviewed, or audited by an independent party.
3. Returns shown may include returns generated by reinvested proceeds. If such returns were not included, the returns shown herein may have been lower.

PERFORMANCE CALCULATIONS METHODOLOGIES

1. Multiple of Money (MoM) is equal to the total value for each investment divided by the investment amount for such investment.
2. Internal Rate of Return (IRR) is a measure of the discounted cash flows (inflows and outflows) related to an investment. Specifically, IRR is the discount rate at which the net present value of all cash flows and any remaining investment value is equal to zero. In other words, IRR is the discount rate at which the (i) present value of all capital invested in an investment (including expenses specifically allocable to the investment) is equal to (ii) the present value of all returns from the investment (whether or not realized).
3. Net IRR (To Date) reflects the impact of management fees, fund expenses and carried interest or incentive fee allocations that have been allocated to limited partners.
4. In certain vehicles Bain Capital Special Situations has deferred portions of carried interest accrual to the General Partner as contemplated within the applicable vehicle's legal documents. During the deferral period, accrued carried interest is not reallocated from the limited partners' book capital accounts to the account of the General Partner.
5. IRRs shown include all returns generated by reinvested capital and profit.
6. Annualized returns are computed based on the change in value during the period of a theoretical investment made at the beginning of the period. The change in value of a theoretical investment is measured by comparing the aggregate ending value of Limited Partners with the aggregate beginning value adjusted for cash flows related to capital contributions or withdrawals during the period. Returns are geometrically linked on a monthly basis.

APPENDIX - ENDNOTES

NOTES REGARDING PRO FORMA INVESTMENT RETURNS

1. Some of the performance information presented in this presentation is pro forma and includes assets held in various Bain Capital Credit funds and separately managed accounts. Those funds and accounts also held other investments and no fund or account investor actually achieved the returns shown in this presentation. In addition, the pro forma information does not take into consideration any leverage that may have been used. These pro forma performance results may have inherent limitations, including that they are prepared with the benefit of hindsight. These are provided for illustrative purposes only, and no representation is made that any investor will or is likely to achieve returns similar to those shown. The information contained herein is unaudited, subject to change, and is provided for informational purposes only. Other performance calculations may produce different results.
2. Certain information herein reflect estimates, opinions, or predictions based on Bain Capital Credit's models or the judgment of Bain Capital Credit investment professionals, which may change in the future. There is no guarantee that such estimates, opinions or predictions will be realized.
3. Returns are calculated in local currencies and then rebased into a single currency as though perfectly hedged.

NOTES REGARDING PRO FORMA PORTFOLIO VINTAGES RETURNS

The Vintage 1 and Vintage 2 Portfolios are distinct groups of aircrafts owned by the Bain Capital and Griffin Global Asset Management platform. Vintage 1 and Vintage 2 are owned by different Bain Capital Special Situations' Funds though all aircraft across Vintages are held within a corporate entity where any related financing is comingled, i.e. the Bain Capital / Griffin Platform. Further details on the portfolio are noted below.

1. Vintage 1: The portfolio's first aircraft was acquired on January 7, 2021 and is owned primarily by the Global Special Situations I and Special Situations Asia I. As of December 31, 2024, the Vintage 1 portfolio owns 34 delivered aircraft.
2. Vintage 2: The portfolio's first aircraft was acquired on September 23, 2022 and is owned primarily by the Global Special Situations II and Special Situations Asia II. As of December 31, 2024, the Vintage 2 portfolio owns 31 delivered aircraft and 27 engines.
3. Combined returns for Vintage 1 and Vintage 2 are extracted performance across multiple funds and may be deemed to be "hypothetical" performance. Hypothetical performance is subject to inherent limitations, as the performance may have been different had the investments been selected to occur in one fund.
4. Net returns were calculated using the following assumptions and in line with the undiscounted Aircraft Fund fees and expenses reflected in the offering documents:
    a) Management fees are based on the weighted average life of the investments multiplied by the total invested capital multiplied by 1.50%.
    b) Carried interest percentage is 20%
    c) Operating expenses are based on the weighted average life of the investments multiplied by the total invested capital multiplied by 0.25%
